- We want you to believe that quality is FREE.
- The requirement is that 100% (each and every) child must have early reading skills, be counting, and understand positive direction entering kindergarten.
- Everything would be different if this requirement (FTFRTFT) was accepted and delivered.

FTFRTFT is --- REALLY REALLY FTFRTFT--- and must be funded. It must be at the front of change to have Positive Expectations from change! Do you plan to get to the next step of Economic, Education, Emotion, and Ethic growth in our local first and second tier suburban and urban locations without doing FTFRTFT? Positive Expectations wishes a mild intrusion on everyone local until every at risk child starts kindergarten ready. That intrusion is organized perfectly in the Theory / Science of Constraints Management to Increase high quality throughput. The Socratic Presentation includes stories and questions that must be answered. One of the stories, the book Critical Chain presents with minimal imagination on the part of school systems an Individual Learning Plan Delivered by Many over a defined period of time. The actual theory is Socratically outlined in this book in 100 pages. What is this thing called Theory of Constraints, by Eliyahu M. Goldratt, published 1990 And how should it be implemented.

With your attention your district could create significantly greater positive expectations, without tears.
