

USA VALUES, LLC

Brief to Emotional Intelligence & Civility Positive Expectations

12-31-99 by Thomas Wolfgram

<http://www.usa-positive-expectations.com/Positive-Expectation.html>

REFERENCES

The World Book Encyclopedia Dictionary Copyright 1964

The New Webster's Dictionary / Library Of Practical Information Copyright 1990

The Classic Standard, Definitive Roget's International Thesaurus Fourth edition Copyright 1977

Truthfulness and dependability with self, individuals, institutions, and society.

Helpfulness, gentleness, kindness, serenity and cheerfulness to and with others. Understanding and accommodation rather than confrontation and conflict.

Courtesy and politeness for others, parents, elders, life, property, nature and beliefs.

Generate the product and service which adds value to oneself, others, society, and community. Establishes natural consequences and the law of the harvest.

Boldness to be outgoing and friendly with others. Daring to take action that positively influences others.

Steady and continuously holding fast to an expected result, purpose or plan of action.

Good sense and practice of controlling one's life and development within self, institutions, and society. Using limits and moderation to avoid the dangers of the extremes.

Individual relying on self for action and inaction, realizing only the self can develop gifts, talents and uniqueness.

Allegiance to family, church, school, employers, organization, government, and nation.

Consideration, sensitivity, tolerance, and sharing with others for the other's benefit.

Natural consequence of laws defining right, wrong and the expectation of fairness.

After justice is served, understanding the futility of carrying a grudge, resulting in kindness beyond what justice requires.

Personal caring that goes beyond friendship, loyalty and respect.

Commitment to powerful beliefs from evidence of things seen and not seen.

<http://www.usa-positive-expectations.com/Positive-Expectation.html>